

CBA COURSEWORK – NEW RECOVERY DETAILS

As you may know from my various publishing activities I'm keenly aware of the need for public education regarding the evolution of neuroscience – and quite openly opinionated about the shortcomings of the current psychiatric diagnostic and treatment system. Nowhere is this more obvious than in the diagnostic and treatment strategies for the appearance of “ADHD.”

I developed this CBA coursework for two evolving groups – medical professionals [including students, teachers, medical professionals and mental health providers], and the puzzled public. As a result of these training efforts I prepared this handout to update you on this unique opportunity to actually dive more deeply into the data, the research, training videos, recorded expert commentaries, and the instructional PDF downloads that provide a far more comprehensive experience than an initial office consultation.

I'm sending this summary out because you may be interested in the Complimentary Previews in each course to take your learning experience a bit further down the road:

1. ADHD101 - 55 Lessons + coaching: How to measure, target, & treat ADHD brain/biomedical realities at every level from novice to professional.
<https://www.corepsych.com/course>
2. The PM Drop – 11 Lessons: An ADHD Minicourse: Learn how to use the most common medication problems to correct Treatment Failure results & comorbid conditions not initially recognized. <https://www.corepsych.com/pm>
3. Prediction Rules – 36 Lessons: Essentials to get started and then endure with a successful treatment process for ADHD. For Predictable results:
<https://corepsych.com/predict>
4. ADHD Bundle: ADHD 101 + The PM Drop – 66 bundled lessons discounted:

Upon completing this coursework you will have more tools than most medical professionals to sort out a wide variety of “ADHD” problems and potential solutions – even if never evaluated previously, and even if you've worked in the field for years.

Personal Note: This CoreBrain Academy coursework is not an attempt to take over your medical care. This Academy offering is an educational tool provided in a serious effort to improve your treatment understandings, objectives and outcomes, and communication with your current medical team.
